

Roots Origin is a Rwandan social enterprise that is passionate about specialty coffee and the farmers who grow it. Our coffee is grown at 1,560-1,900m altitude, in rich volcanic soils amongst the rolling hills of Karongi district, Gishyita sector in western Rwanda. just 10km from the beautiful Lake Kivu. Here, our 835 farmers (257 of whom are women) tend their Bourbon coffee trees (Mibirizi and Jackson varieties and bring their cherries to our coffee washing station at Intango – which is where the magic happens.

Using only the very best practices, we produce fully washed and natural processed Arabica coffees. With over 10 years of specialty coffee exporting experience in East Africa, we have built solid and respectful relationships with coffee producers and have created a network of access to high quality and diverse specialty coffees that we can offer to our customers. Our services are fully transparent between the producers and the buyers allowing value to permeate all through the supply chain. Quality, transparency, traceability and social impact are at the core of who we are. In addition, we are committed to producing and sharing exquisite single origin, Specialty Rwandan coffee.
